CEBU — At 30 years old, Kristoffer Villarino is already making his mark in international movies.

For the last four years, the Cebu-born Villarino has been working as head editor for Bigfoot Entertainment, an international production and film financing company with headquarters in Hong Kong and Los Angeles.

Villarino is based at the Bigfoot Studios in Cebu, where the company invested more than P1 billion worth of state-of-the-art production facilities and equipment comparable to those in Hollywood.

He has edited four international films, the most recent of which is "Midnight Movie," a slasher flick set for distribution in North America, Germany and Thailand.

Villarino was handpicked by the film's director, Jack Messitt, for the editing job. They met while working on Bigfoot's "Irreversi," where Messitt was director of photography. "Midnight Movie" is Jack's first directorial job. He is very skilled, and for him to put his trust in me felt really good," said Villarino.

Although a fan more of suspense than of slasher films, Villarino enjoyed the script and immersed himself in the genre to prepare for his work on "Midnight."
